Local Events	Inside Back Cover

We recently spent a few days in Cork with our son and his fiancé, celebrating our sapphire wedding anniversary; (to save you googling, it's the one halfway between ruby and golden). On the Saturday afternoon, England happened to be playing Ireland, in their final rugby World Cup warm-up match and we found a very good local pub with a large screen, called the 'Oliver Plunkett'. (To save you googling, he was a Primate of Ireland in the 17th century, the last Roman Catholic martyr to die for treason). Despite the company we were in, it proved impossible to suppress our elation at an English victory!

By the time you read this, the Rugby World Cup will be well under way, and the destiny of some national sides will already be known. These tournaments have a great capacity for uniting nations as one family. The recent migrant crisis reminds us that God himself sees us as one family and if only we could see everyone around us as a brother or sister, how differently would we treat them!

Archbishop Desmond Tutu often refers to an African idiom which says, 'a person is a person only through others', known as 'ubuntu'. Those with ubuntu are welcoming, hospitable, warm and generous, willing to share. Such people are open and available, willing to be vulnerable, affirming of others. They do not feel threatened by people, because they have a proper self-assurance that comes from knowing they belong to a greater whole.

This is a tall order for us all, but one to which we should aspire. Our lives would surely be lived differently were we to feel more connected with family, friends, the local community and the wider world. Jesus' ministry shows us the way. He firmly sided with the poor, the oppressed and the powerless, knowing that all were children of God.

We too must be unwilling to accept injustices meted out to our brothers and sisters. When we face it squarely and become involved, even in the smallest way, we feel less pain. When we act lovingly, we experience love. God simply asks each of us to do what we can, because we can only be fully human together.

On the 1st Tuesday of each month the School Collective Worship, which is held in the church, will be a short Holy Communion service, to which everyone is welcome. The dates for the remainder of this term are 3rd November and 1st December.

All Souls Service: Light a Candle to Remember.
6pm 1st November.

Everyone is welcome to a special, quiet, meditative service at which we take time to remember and give thanks for the lives of those who have been parted from us by death.

This year we are also offering 'Lilies to Remember'. If you would like a lily, to remember your departed family member or friend, to be placed in the church for the duration of the All Souls Season, please contact Fran in the church office on:

01297 444499 or administrator@uplymechurch.org.uk.

We are asking for a donation of £1.50 to cover the cost of the lilies. The names of those being remembered with a lily will be included on a prayer list to be placed on the altar near the arrangement.

Dementia Awareness Workshop

Wednesday October 7th - Uplyme Village Hall @ 7pm

Uplyme Help at Hand would like to invite everyone in the local area to attend this important informal evening.

Our aim is to become more aware of, and more sensitive to, the difficulties experienced by dementia sufferers and their carers. All age groups are encouraged to come as opportunities to use skills learnt could occur at any time at work or within families.

Specialist speakers will guide us with many hints and tips. They will give us a greater understanding of how we can, in some small way, help those we may come across who are living with dementia.

D – Diversity

'Water is life' is the universal cry in rural Zambia. BICC, our partner working in Zambia overseen by the international relief charity Tearfund, sees that as its number one priority. However it has a 7 point plan to bring people out of poverty two points of which are highlighted in today's article.

'Thanks to you, Major, Charity and their children are about to move into a new house, big enough and fit for their every purpose. Their old, tiny, thatched-roof house will be given over to their thriving brood of chickens! Like so many in this rural Zambian village, Major and Charity used to be desperately poor. They grew vegetables, but with few resources and scant access to water, it was a struggle to make ends meet. 'There wasn't enough money to send my children to school,' says Major. When BICC started running training in skills to help families generate income, Major was keen to join and chose to focus on chicken breeding. In the past, others in the village had tried to keep chickens, but they had lacked vital knowledge. They didn't know how to keep the birds healthy, so many died. And the ones that did survive were just kept and occasionally slaughtered for meat when a guest came. The concept of breeding chickens to sell, or even eating and trading eggs was foreign.

Today the villagers' chicken-rearing knowledge is solid! 'The BICC team taught me how to give the chickens shelter and safety, how to make sure they eat correctly and how to prevent diseases,' says Major. BICC gave him ten chickens at the end of the training and he bought five more to kick-start the venture.

It wasn't all plain-sailing – it took time for Major to put his training into practice and learn to raise healthy chicks. He values the help of the community support group, formed with the help of BICC. Here, the villagers share problems and solutions, learning all the time and going to BICC only if they need extra advice. In this way, all progress is long-term as the villagers are not dependent on others. Major persevered and his business has become an inspiring success. People come from far and wide to buy his healthy, organic chickens – sometimes 40 at a time. Major hopes and believes he can grow his business further and eventually save enough to buy cattle and a cart to grow more vegetables. 'With readily available meat and eggs, the children's diet is hugely improved, and I can now afford to send all of them to school,' says Major joyfully. I can pay for uniforms, books, pens as well as secondary school fees. I can afford medicine when we get sick, and we're now able to build a new house, much better and safer than the old one.'

Major and Charity have been using their success to help others, including buying books for children whose parents are not yet able to cover school costs. 'We know how blessed we are,' says Major. 'So we want to continue to bless others.' I am very thankful for the Tearfund supporters who have made this possible. Thank you for being part of this transformation.

Confirmation Do you or your children want to be confirmed? The confirmation will be held at Uplyme in November. Please contact the administrator if you would like to go on the course in preparation for this important event.

Junior Church This is for 3 – 16 year olds and is held during term time in the school each Sunday from 10 – 10:45 after which they join the adults in Church.

Bell Ringers How about starting a new hobby or re-joining an old one? We need your help to support our bellringers. Contact James Booth or our administrator for more details asp.

News about music

Our Gospel Singers supported the Church in Charmouth in an evening service in August. We have just started back and have been pleased to welcome some new members. If you would like to join our Gospel Singers then please contact our administrator for details, or just come along on a Wednesday evening when we are rehearsing and you would instantly be made welcome. We meet on most Wednesday evenings in term time at 7 30pm in the church building. Your first attendance is free and after that £5 per session, or less as you can afford.

By the time you receive this the Festival Choir will have sung at the Harvest Festival evening service. After this in due course they will be rehearsing for Christmas. Do contact Adrian or Roger or our administrator if you would like to join them.

Social events

Our lively Church reaches out to the whole community in many ways, one being through our social events. Many young people from Uplyme and surrounding areas went off to Spree in July and had a wonderful time, with three of our young people winning first prize for their contribution to a variety entertainment event. Help at hands, a community group, held a wonderful event for the elderly at Garland's house where we were treated to a delicious lunch.

An Art Exhibition was held for the first time in the Church building. This was a great opportunity for all our very many artists in the Uplyme and Lyme community to display their talents and at the same time to raise money for our Zambia Water project. It was wonderful to see so much talent and so many people from our community coming into our Church.

By the time you receive this, a Big Breakfast will have been held in the Church, again for the Zambia project. More news about the Zambia Project will be seen further in the magazine.

Regular social events for everyone in the community:

Tuesdays: 1-3 Craft sessions; 7-7 30 Prayer Meeting (both held in the Church Building)

Wednesdays: 1 30 – 3 Making a difference – knitting for babies in Africa; 7 30 Gospel Singers (both in the Church Building)

Fridays Our Children's day: 10 – 11 30 Shining Stars for the under 5's in the Scout Hut. 6 – 7 30 Xplosion Year 6 and above in the Church building

Saturdays – Our Saturday morning football continues on St George's Field as weather allows. Contact Robin Hodges or David Hardman for more information. 11 30 second Saturday of each month Community Walk, meet outside the Church

Dementia Awareness event in the Village Hall 7th October 7 pm.– This is a community event, run through Uplyme community group 'Helping hands'. It is free for all

June Moulding

As the current Tower Captain I would like to offer a few words about June Moulding.

My family and I along with most local families first met June at Mrs Ethelston's school as a dinner lady. When I was eleven I left Mrs E's and started at Woodroffe, I moved from Cubs to Scouts and there was a skills badge available and I chose Bellringing as I knew June as the Tower Captain at Uplyme Church.

It was always a fun and enjoyable time and you were always made welcome which made learning easier. There were about 15 ringers available most Sundays in those days, all of which - and many more besides - had been taught by June. I think she had taught most of the village during her career!

Bellringing was her life and passion, after all 60+ years as Tower Captain speaks for itself. I don't expect there are many towers in the UK with long captaincy's like that. I know from a personal side its hard work organising everything but that is the job so I am not complaining..... but I don't see myself lasting 60 odd years!

June and her Husband Bob along with other villagers raised a lot of money to purchase a lovely set of Handbells which are still around. I took over the captaincy about 4 years ago, and shortly after, June moved up North nearer her family, as she had a few little health issues and although her heart was in Uplyme it was the right decision to be near her family.

June was always willing to lend a hand in village activities raising money for various charities along the way. She always had a smile on her face and enjoyed various practical jokes.

At her Thanksgiving Service the other day I was privileged and honoured to have Junes Family, Arthur, Sandra, Charlotte and Peter ring for her.

To all of June's family, if you see a copy of this we are all thinking of you at this sad time, our thoughts and prayers are with you all. June will be missed for a very long time.

James Booth

Ida Quick Remembers: I have lived in Uplyme all my life. I was born in 1925, at the cottage where Sue Daly lives. I shall be 90 next month; where did all those years go? I went to school at Mrs Ethelston's until I was 11. The Head Teacher was Mr Freeman which I wasn't very happy with because he bullied me. Oh, did he smack the children. I've seen him break a cane on a girl's hand and then he wasn't satisfied, he'd get another one out of the drawer. We were too frightened to be naughty. It made me very unhappy to be there. I was glad to move on to secondary school at Axminster where I was very happy.

In Uplyme in the 20s there was a little shop that sold sweets and fruit, at the bottom of Gore Lane, Mrs Saunders. We used to go in with our penny or halfpenny and this old lady used to come up and watch us because I think some of the boys used to take some sweets before the poor old soul could catch them. We didn't do it but they did. Naughty, wasn't it?

Mr Bramwell was the Rector in the 20s. My father was groom at the Rectory and used to go otter-hunting up country. Cruel! At 14 I left school and went into service at Pinhay for the Allhusens where I was paid £32 a year. I didn't know one end of a broom from another. There was a butler there, footman, cook – dear old soul – and Rose Furzey who was a housemaid. I got up at half past six in the morning and washed the kitchen floor before Miss Allhusen came down to discuss the menu for the day. I was at Pinhay for three months; The cook said, "I'm leaving," so I said, "well, if you're leaving, so am I." Next I went to Ware House where Major Fullerton lived. I was there for three years and three months. I did everything – cooking, cleaning all the silver. I left to look after my mother, Jessie Quick (née Gay), whilst working part time in the Dorset Hotel for 18 years. Then I went auxiliary nursing at Lyme Hospital for 21 years. My grandmother Sarah Gay (née Stocker) bought Newcastle cottage for £100 and when she died left it to my mother where my family lived for 71 years.. Granny made that £100 by washing and ironing pairs of linen sheets for Portland Lodge at 2d. a pair. I went to Haddons in Lyme for six weeks and they kept me for 15 years. Sadly, it's gone now. There's nothing left in Lyme now.

In 1930 we lived in a council house when it was brand new in Whalley Lane where the rent was 7/6d. a week. We had an outside loo, and no gas or electricity. With my friends we used to make mud pies coz we always liked cooking, drying them in the sun and pretending to eat them. I loved making cakes. I had a very happy childhood.

Jack Thomas

Out and About with John Pennington

I went for a walk towards Golden Cap at the weekend and came across a meadow on the coast path that was covered in autumn Lady's-tresses. Spiranthes spiralis, as its known in Latin, is a lovely little orchid that flowers late in the summer after its leaves have died down. Its Latin name is such as little white flowers spiral around the stem of each plant. This is the second time I've reported spotting an abundance of orchids on the Golden Cap Estate; last time it was green winged orchids. It really is a great place to see meadow flowers and each month brings different species and colours. The land is owned by the National Trust and is farmed by tenants who I assume don't use pesticides on these meadows as there is no way the spectacular species I've seen there would appear if this was not the case. Orchids are very fussy about where they grow and conditions have to be perfect or they refuse to appear.

Having walked along the coast we (for I was not alone - Mrs P and friends were in tow) headed in land and up on to the Stonebarrow ridge that makes up the North Western boundary of the estate. The views from here were spectacular - Golden Cap to the East with Portland in the far distance, Lyme Regis and all the way round to Start Point to the West. So, the whole of Lyme Bay - the largest bite out of the UK - if you look South with both eyes straining to their left and right. One of the party who had just returned from a very hot Southern Spain announced how quiet and unspoilt it was. Despite being a little chilly for the time of year, and lacking solid sunshine, he had a point. No dual carriageways running along the coast, no high-rise blocks and definitely fewer people. Make most of the South West coastline a fantastic place to live or visit.

We continued back along the ridge and in the distance I spotted a tractor slowly driving up the very top of Golden Cap. The top third is covered in gorse and needs managing and it was cutting it back to encourage growth of heather I think. When I looked directly below me the gorse had also been cut back recently and purple spots of heather could be seen peeping through. The heathland seen on the high ground of the Golden Cap Estate and other high ground such as Woodbury Down, Exmoor or the Quantock Hills is actually man made, but makes for lovely scenery and walking country. In fact it's the same for meadows, they don't happen naturally, but require work to look as stunning as they do in Summer. The work done on the Golden Cap Estate makes for a lovely landscape, which if left alone would just turn to oak woodland in the end (not a bad thing, but not right for autumn lady's-tresses!).

Until next time.....

JP

SPREE 2015

What is Spree?

Spree is a camping weekend for children run by SWYM (South West Youth Ministry) in partnership with Urban Saints and Scripture Union. The venue is the parkland of a former country house, Shobrooke Park near Crediton which becomes home to about 1,100 young people aged 8 -18 and their leaders for the penultimate weekend of the summer school term.

What happens at Spree?

The aim of Spree SW is to provide a good mix of fun, excitement and spiritual challenge for every young person that comes along. Through the wide range of activities available, there is an opportunity to discover more about themselves, more about living and working with others, more about God and His love for them and more about being a disciple of Jesus wherever they are in their faith journey.

Who goes to Spree?

Everyone is welcome from Xplosion and The Vibe which encompasses young people from Kilmington, Seaton, Axminster, Lyme Regis and Uplyme. Some of the older ones worked as stewards and gained privileges, had their own space and got to lead raft building and kayaking teams, organised the sumo wrestling and 5 aside football tournament.

What I did at Spree in the Create Tent

Tried out new dance moves with DJ Chris and Stantz (Youth For Christ) dance troupe
Played games with other church groups
Learned new songs from rapper Jozzy
Unpacked Bible passages within our own group

What we all enjoyed most

Screen clips
Henna tattoos
Bouncy castle obstacle course
Laser tag
Painting mugs in the craft tent
Silent disco
Sharing a tent with girls/boys of different ages
Winning Spree's Got Talent with our gymnasts
Rock school

What we took home with us

Whether it was an award for coming first in Spree's Got Talent or just staying up really late drinking hot chocolate, singing along to guitars – the young people of Xplosion and The Vibe all took home great memories.

Spree connects with young people in a way which is relevant to them, inspiring and encouraging them to use their skills and talents. Through this experience they grow in confidence, make new friends, learn new skills, reflect on their own personal faith and hopefully share this experience with others.

Kim Sankey

In the Garden with Nigel Ball

With Autumn approaching there are many jobs to be done in the garden.

- Start to plan next years borders, share perennial plants with fellow gardeners.
- Plant bulbs for spring flowering in pots in your garden
- Make a hit list to tackle certain areas in your garden.
- Root out and remove plants that you deem to have problems i.e. virus or weak growth.
- Check stakes and ties on new plantings before winter starts.
- Check fences and posts for rot, replace before problems get worse.
- Plant perennial plants, shrubs and trees this month there are bargains to be had at the end of the season.
- Reflect on plants that are good or bad, note these for future reference.

Reasons to stay out of the Garden

Eosophobia - A fear of dawn or daylight

Heliophobia - A fear of the sun

Astraphobia - A fear of thunder and lightning

I hope you can get out in your garden and enjoy this autumn harvest time.

Happy times in your Garden

God Bless to you all

Nigel Ball

PS: Don't forget to store those apples, only select the perfect fruits, the rest freeze for cooking during the winter.

Two more female Bishops consecrated

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, recently consecrated two new female Church of England bishops.

Rachel Treweek, former Archdeacon of Hackney and before that a speech and language therapist, became the new Bishop of Gloucester. As the first female diocesan bishop, she is also now its most senior female bishop. She is also the first female bishop to take a seat in the House of Lords.

The Revd Canon Dame Sarah Mullally, a former nurse who became the youngest Chief Nursing Officer for England in 1999, was consecrated as the new suffragan Bishop of Crediton. Bishop Rachel and Bishop Sarah are the third and fourth female bishops to be appointed in the Church of England respectively.

Owl by Jake Winkle Miracle on Pound Lane

One day Sue Wells had a brainwave. She wanted to raise money for the Uplyme Zambia Water Project. On the last Friday and Saturday of August it came to glorious fruition. Her brainwave became an astonishing fact. She turned our church into a brilliant art gallery. 39 artists, professionals and amateurs alike, responded to her appeal by submitting over a hundred paintings. Phil Clayton at the Town Mill loaned the ArtsFest screens from the Baptist Church in Lyme . Helped by her husband Martin and a host of willing volunteers, the exhibition was mounted and staged from 10.30 until 4.30 on two successive days. Thanks to much advertising, the show attracted hordes of visitors, some of whom had never set foot in the church. Almost all the paintings were for sale and 12 were sold. There was also a raffle of a floral cake made by Barbara Pringle, a painting of the church by John Glover and an art box donated by Lynda White. Barbara Pringle succeeded in winning back her own cake! The raffle raised over £300. There was also a silent auction for two items : a vase of flowers donated by Terry Whitworth and a study of a lion painted by Linda Hampson. Upstairs in the Gallery Michael Stride gave a free demonstration which attracted a crowd of 25 spectators. Jake Winkle submitted a number of stunning paintings, one of which he gave free. There was a painting competition, a Quiz and also a craft activity up in the Bell Tower for the children. Picture frames, homemade jam, wood turning and candles shaped like ice creams were on sale. There were delicious refreshments made by members of the congregation. When it was all over, the exhibition was dismantled, the artists claimed their paintings back and the church was miraculously restored to its pristine self, ready for worship on next day's Sunday services. The Exhibition Treasurer Sharyn Walker counted up the money and proclaimed the final figure for the Zambia Water Project to be an astonishing £1600.

For the artists, the people of Uplyme and beyond and above all for Sue and Martin Wells it had been an extraordinary achievement.

Summer & Autumn Shows 2016

The society's summer show in July and the autumn show in September have become part of the village life and looked forward to by residents and visitors alike whether taking part as a keen gardening competitor or simply enjoying a pleasant afternoon's entertainment. But they do not take place without a lot of preparation and organisation. Luckily over the last few years the society has enjoyed a secession of willing show secretaries to undertake this work but with now our current secretary standing down after organising the last five events the society finds itself without a person to take over the role to ensure these events take place in 2016.

We urgently need an enthusiastic person to oversee the running of our 2016 summer show and a second person for the smaller autumn show.

If you feel you could help the society with these vital rolls then please contact our secretary:

Rose Mock

Tel. 01297 34733,

Email: rosemarymock@icloud.com

The committee will be on hand to give all the help and advice to stage the shows. Also a very comprehensive guide is available showing how to organise the shows, written by former show secretary Jenny Oldfield.

We look forward to hearing from interested parties.

NOW YOUR SOCIETY NEEDS YOU!

News From The Pub

Well, I had a great birthday party on the Saturday night .. now 60 years young! and the cup cakes and cream tea party on the Sunday was a lovely occasion. Donations were welcomed in the buckets at the tea party for Candles On The Cobb for which the organisers were very grateful. Thanks to 'Cup Cake Claire' for the delicious cup cakes

Thank you so much for all my lovely birthday cards flowers and gifts, and donations in lieu of gifts to the Charity close to my heart Bobath

Cymru, you gave an amazing £490. Bobath have sent a thank you letter which is displayed in the pub.

I still have some celebration events to mark my big birthday.....I am so lucky to have Rugby World Cup tickets for three of Wales games and also quarter final tickets for which I hope Wales will be in! C'mon Wales! During the Rugby World Cup there will be limited times when the kitchen will be open so Steve can sit and enjoy the games, we will however be providing food at half time, along with our little other surprises! You may have noticed the bunting and flags around the outside of the pub, we have also put up the 'odd flag' inside! please do come and enjoy the games in the pub it is always a great atmosphere. Sorry but I will be in Wales for most of them! C'mon CYMRU.

The final will be on Halloween and we will be having a bit of music in the pub to celebrate the winning team.

We were so pleased to have Scott Quinnell (Wales and British Lions) and lovely his wife Nicola stay with us while playing their part with Candles On The Cob. Scott is a patron of the charity 'Make A Wish' benefactors of the event and Nicola very kindly donated the 5000 candles from their family business Quinnell Candles. If you love perfumed candles trust me Quinnell candles are amazing. It was a bit surreal...in the afternoon we were watching Scott on the telly commentate on the Ireland v Wales game, in the evening he,s sitting on our sofa while we are all singing along with a bit of 'Tom' on the juke box!

Our big congratulation to all involved with organising the very successful Candles On The Cobb event.

We were delighted for everyone involved with the fantastic success of Uplyme Cricket Club what a great achievement. The football season has started and we would like to wish every success to our Uplyme Teams and all the committee. Darts, pool and crib soon to start in the pub so best of luck to all teams and our grateful thanks for all your support.

We are pleased that our plans to move the internal stairs have been approved. Coming in through the front door to be faced with the immediate dangerous position of the stairs has always been a worry for us....there have been a few incidents on the top of the stairs which have caused a problem and which finally prompted us to try and make the interior of the pub much safer. We aim to start the work as soon as possible.

Kaitlyn has now finished and passed her hospitality course at Exeter College, she has also passed her personal licence exam (which she did when she was only 17!) we are so proud of what she has achieved and we are so lucky to have her at the pub. Ask any of our 'cocktail drinkers' who will tell you all about Kaitlyn's amazing cocktail list.

Big thanks Kaitlyn.

Christmas is coming...we have already had some bookings for Christmas parties, please do come and chat with Steve if you are looking for somewhere for a get together, we would love to have you celebrate the festive season at the pub. More about Christmas next month.

Well that's it for this month, by the time you are reading this, Wales will have played England at Twickenham....now that alone is unfair! 'C'mon Wales' as I am writing this, Steve is singing Swing Low Sweet Chariot..... we have survived 35 years of agreeing to differ, however, this Rugby World Cup could end it all!!

Love to you all
Wendy

P.S. I reluctantly agreed to help Steve put the flags on the fence, I still don,t believe him when he said he hit my thumb with the hammer by accident.!

Uplyme and Lyme Regis Cricket Club

October 2015

First XI promoted to Devon Cricket League Div B...

Uplyme & Lyme Regis CC first XI has been promoted, through the playoff final, to the highest level in the club's history.

The regular season ended with ULRCC, as runners up to Ottery in Div C1(e) to play off against runners up in DC1(w), Plymouth Civil Service and Roborough CC, for the final promotion place.

The game was scheduled to be played in Plymouth, but at the last minute they were unable to arrange a pitch so we accepted without hesitation that the game be switched to Uplyme. Despite heavy rain running up to the match and the impact on the outfield of a rugby practice, the KG5 'looked like Lords' as we welcomed a large crowd and our Plymouth opponents.

ULRCC won the toss and, despite losing Alex Richards early for 4, saw the skill and power of former skipper Jon Wheltlor, cleared by the Devon Cricket League to play, hit a commanding 129 not out. Jon was by no means on his own as Richard O'Halloran (41) and Mark Batey (35 not out from just 20 balls) to ensure that we reached 264-2 from our 45 overs, with seven more batters itching to get in.

Rhys Davies then delivered his performance of the season to decimate the PCS&RCC reply with 3-22. Paddy Barraclough (2-48) and Steve Batey (2-27) chipped in, before the final wicket fell with the score on 149 leaving a delirious Uplyme & Lyme Regis side, victorious by 115 runs and promoted...

And Seconds avoid relegation in last game cliff hanger...

Report next month!

1st Lym Valley Scout Group

The term has started off well, all 3 sections are full and there is a waiting list. It is fantastic that so many young people want to be a part of such a great association and do some fun activities.

The Scout Association is a charity and relies heavily on adult volunteers without whom the young people would not be able to experience, fun, friends, out-door activities, push themselves to do things they thought they would never be able to do and meet like thinking people from around the world. Although no one from our group was selected to go, some scouts/explorers from East Devon have not long come back from the World Jamboree in Japan and had a brilliant time meeting scouts from all around the world and sharing ideas.

Part of the scouts/cubs and beavers badges is community based and this year the scouts helped light candles at Candles on the Cobb. This is a big fund raising event in Lyme Regis and it was a great privilege to take part and for the scouts it gave them a sense of giving to the community. It is scout community week this month so hopefully we will be able to do something in the community. If you would like the scouts to help with a project please let us know.

We are in need of another Beaver leader/section assistant. If anyone would like to come and help at Beavers or knows of someone who would like to please let me know. The role is to assist the Beaver leader in activities and helping the Beavers with their badge work. It is a really rewarding role and is quite flexible. If we are unable to find another helper we may have to close Beavers after December, which would be a great shame.

Yours in Scouting

ALICE KLARR by The Full Poodle

The dust is settling and the fog is clearing from the windows.

The Poodle has now seen many Windows10 upgrades so it's time to pass some accumulated wisdom on to the already wise, or possibly wizened, denizens of Uplyme Parish.

Upgrades from Windows8.1 to Windows10 have generally gone smoothly and reaction to the new system has been good. This is not surprising as W10 is essentially W8.1 reworked to give a user interface which is generally liked rather than dreaded.

The exceptions are sufferers of very slow internet connections. The slow and interrupted download sometimes corrupts the install package. This causes looping downloads resulting in huge amounts of data download, and failed installations.

Fortunately Microsoft has made the Windows10 ISO available, which it never did for W8, so the Poodle has been able to correct such installation failures.

While we're on the subject, find out about your chances of faster broadband by putting your postcode in the the connectingdevonandsomerset.co.uk site. They say Uplyme Cabinet 8 will be upgraded by October. Potential Hurrah!

Upgrades from Windows7 have not been quite so silky smooth. Mainly the failure has been with older desktop computers equipped with graphics cards. When the computer restarts after the upgrade we've seen nothing on the screen at all or corrupted graphics.

It seems that when Windows10 does the pre-install checks it sees the motherboard graphics and checks that a hardware driver is available but fails to check the graphics card. When the makers of the card have not produced the software the graphics card can't work. The older the computer the more likely the problems and those who upgraded from XP to W7 and now to W10 are definitely pushing the corners of the envelope bag right outside the box.

Another problem we've seen is caused by failing hard drives. The extra stress of the upgrade is showing up pre failure faults on the drives. Often these faults have been present for some time, causing slowness and random failures, which in themselves have prompted the owner to upgrade to W10. Where the computer isn't storing large amounts of data we've seen good results by substituting a solid state hard drive for the failing mechanical drive. Windows10 seems to be very well optimised for these drives and we've seen some big speed improvements.

Finally – don't panic! If you have upgraded and the graphics look strange or the printer or the webcam or other bits of hardware don't work, just keep using it for a couple of days. These faults are often fixed by the Windows update system.

The medical world could learn a thing or two here. That personal upgrade package is surely just around the corner. Some of us could use an improved user interface.

Lyme Regis and Uplyme Sports Development Trust - Update

This is a new Trust established in June this year with the objective of raising funds to give young sportsmen and women from Lyme Regis and Uplyme a life changing experience. The idea is to give individuals the opportunity to develop their skills in any way that is appropriate, here or abroad, and to share their experiences with their sporting colleagues. The initial initiative is to "send a cricketer to Australia". However if the Trust is a success and sufficient funds are available we would like to include other sports as and when the opportunity arises.

To date we have been successful in collecting funds such that we can finance our first initiative and send a young cricketer to Australia. The lucky player is 22 year old Harvey Brimicombe from Uplyme. He travelled out to Australia on the 21 September. We wish him the best of luck with this life changing opportunity, which has been made possible by the generosity of the Trusts supporters.

Harvey will be sending us updates on his trip, which we hope to publish in the Parish News.

If you would like to donate some funds to this initiative or require further information please contact:

Paul Messer on 01297 444181 or 07831 633180 or e-mail paulandjune@uplyme.com.

Trustees: Paul Messer, Philip Evans, John Garland, Justin Tunstall

Plastic carrier bags

How many plastic carrier bags do you have stashed away? To save you the hassle of counting, it would probably be about 40 – that is the average for households in the UK.

But the amount of new bags that we use each month is likely to drop drastically from this month (October) onwards. For whereas in England shoppers used 11.7 free bags each month last year, in Wales, where a 5p charge for each bag was introduced, just two were used each month. And in October of this year the charge will be introduced in England.

Applications considered by the Planning Committee or Council (see minutes for full details):

- 15/1993/CPE Valley View Farm Lime Kiln Lane Certificate of lawfulness for building operations of a timber building and its use as a dwelling for a period in excess of four years. Objection.
- Lark Rising Spring Head Road (ex Spring Gables). Erection of two storey side extension and single storey rear extensions (demolition of existing conservatory) incorporating balconies to first floor east elevation. No objection in principle, but concerns about overlooking.
- Yawl House Lyme Road (regular and LBC). Demolition of existing building and erection of new building for use as a water bottling plant and storage (extra information). No objection.
- Harcombe Cross Harcombe Road. Approval of reserved matters (access, appearance, landscaping, layout and scale) for construction of a single dwelling house. No objection.
- The Old Dairy House Rhode Lane. Removal of condition 3 of permission 05/3162/FUL to unrestricted residential use of outbuilding. Objection.
- Mast Trinity Hill Road. Replacement of various antennae, installation of 3 no. equipment cabinets, plus ancillary works. No objection.

Applications granted or refused by EDDC:

- Talbot Arms Hotel Lyme Road. Construction of side extension. Approved with conditions re. materials.
- Elton Lyme Road. Changes in first floor layout to create additional bedroom and to provide additional bathroom and shower facilities. Approved retrospectively.

Finance: County Councillor Jim Knight has agreed to grant £1000 towards replacing the broken fencing between the village hall and the playing field, so field users are asked not to use the unofficial shortcut to the car park once this is completed, so that the patio area is kept clean and safe for the preschool children.

The Council has also now received £5000 from Locality towards the costs of writing the Neighbourhood Plan, which is much appreciated.

It will also be applying for lottery funding to replace the unsatisfactory PA system in the village hall with ceiling-mounted microphones, which can pick up sounds from the Councillors and audience without needing to “hand round the lollipop” all the time! If installed, the new system will not allow users to turn up the volume to unacceptably loud levels for evening functions, for which neighbours will surely be grateful!

It was agreed that cemetery fees would remain at the same level this year, having been increased last year. They are still significantly cheaper than fees charged by east Devon and Axminster TC.

Bus service: By the time you read this, Church Street in Lyme Regis may be open again, but the Council is lobbying the powers that be to get a shuttle bus service so residents can get to important places, like Dorchester Hospital, by bus. The new timetable that comes in on 27th September will also result in the loss of the Sunday X53 service to Exeter, but more frequent journeys between Bridport/Axminster.

Dogs on the playing field: thanks to EDDC, new clearer signs will be installed on the footpath through the playing fields, making it clear that dogs on leads are allowed on the footpath only, and not on the field.

Potholes: Devon County Council’s contractors are trialling a new method of pothole repair, which is proving to be efficient and longer lasting. Let’s hope that the machinery will soon be in Uplyme repairing the potholes on our rural lanes which seem to pop up a few weeks or months after the last patching!

(Don’t forget that, if you have internet access, you can report potholes or other highways problems at this web address: <https://new.devon.gov.uk/roadsandtransport/report-a-problem/> - or you can call the Devon Highways helpline on 0345 155 1004.)

Police report: PCSO Trott was pleased to report no crimes last month, but is continuing to look for unsafe parking near junctions in the village.

East Devon DC offers support in Syrian refugee crisis...

Few could fail to be moved by the harrowing scenes of Syrian refugees fleeing their war torn home land. Central Government policy drives the process of assisting refugees. At the time of writing the government has just announced an intention to accommodate 20,000 refugees over the next five years.

We understand that the United Nations High Commissioner for refugees will help to identify Syrians to be prioritised for resettlement and organise transport to the UK. The Refugee Council will then transfer refugees to areas offering support. This is a voluntary scheme and has mainly involved towns and cities, as such areas are generally able to provide easier access to the spectrum of services a refugee might require.

Devon County Council, rather than East Devon DC, is the social services authority in our area and will play a lead role in local offers of support. As the housing authority, East Devon DC will assist in placing refugees who may be allocated to the District. Our housing team is working to ensure that we can provide practical local support to any refugees who might come to East Devon.

Recycling trials extended...

Trials of an improved recycling service have just started in two East Devon areas – NOT including Uplyme!

Around 1,800 households in the Feniton and Exmouth (The Colony) areas will be able to recycle more during the trial as the council is adding cardboard and mixed plastics to the extensive number of items it already collects from the kerbside each week.

Every household in the trial areas will receive an additional 70 litre reusable sack which they can use for their recyclables, along with their usual green recycling box. The weekly food waste collections will also continue as normal.

As residents will be able to recycle more in their weekly collection, they will produce less waste to go in their grey wheeled bin. This will then be collected every three weeks instead of every two weeks, in the two selected areas.

East Devon currently recycles around 44% of its household waste and the recycling and waste contract accounts for around a quarter of the council's total annual revenue spend.

Several other councils and waste partnerships have carried out improved recycling trials similar to the one East Devon is considering. Falkirk and Bury Councils have already implemented their enhanced recycling service leading to three – weekly waste collections across their areas. Whilst Falkirk has just approved plans to move to four weekly waste collections following the great success of their improved recycling rates, that does not form part of the current East Devon trial.

Whilst it is important that the council saves money on what is one of its largest cost items and best protects our environment by increasing recycling, special arrangements are being made available for nappies and incontinence pads with existing clinical waste collections being maintained weekly, so nobody need worry

The trial will not collect all plastics as crisp packets, cling film and garden pots are too expensive and difficult to sort and recycle.

New contract for recycling and waste collection...

Work is progressing toward agreement of a new contract for East Devon's waste and recycling contracts. The new contract process has been extended and is scheduled to be reported to Cabinet with the contract awarded in February 2016.

The extension will allow the Council to consider alternate methods of vehicle procurement and whether it is economically preferable to purchase our own fleet or to hire via a contractor. It will also allow the results of the recycling and waste collection trials currently being held in Exmouth and Feniton and the service and cost implications of an improved recycling service coupled with a three-weekly refuse collection to be properly considered.

Relocation update...

The project to relocate East Devon District Council to new, smaller office in Honiton and a refurbished Exmouth Town Hall is gathering pace.

A conditional contract has been agreed by the council with Pegasus Life for the sale of The Knowle site at Sidmouth. This means that Pegasus can now progress a planning application and EDDC start the procurement process for design and construction services on the two new sites.

The team is also investigating whether it is possible to combine parts of the existing Honiton Business Centre with the new headquarters which could allow some of the serviced office space of the Business Centre to be retained.

Terms have been proposed to Sidmouth Town Council with a view to transferring the remainder of Knowle Park to the Town Council for the benefit of the town.
